A panel of experienced environmental professionals from across different sectors will speak about their unique career journeys, and the challenges and changes that they have experienced along the way. Panel members for this event will include:

Basha Stasak

Campaigner, Australian Conservation Foundation

Lisa Walpole

Senior project officer, Department of Environment, Land, Water and Planning

Josh Hales

Aquatic Ecologist, Jacobs

More to be announced soon.

The event will be facilitated by Matt Wicking. Matt is an experienced facilitator with over a decade of experience providing advice and assistance to progressive businesses on integrating purpose and sustainability, reinventing work and reshaping culture. He provides facilitation, coaching and advice services through his freelance practice and currently delivers the Melbourne Centre for Sustainability Leadership Fellowship program.

If you are currently enrolled, or are considering enrolment in an environmental education program, this is a fantastic opportunity to learn more about what options are available to you after graduation.
