

ADAM SMITH FEIANZ CENVP
DIRECTOR | REEF ECOLOGIC

Joined the Institute in 1999

“Join EIANZ if you wish to fast track your environmental knowledge, performance, reputation and outcomes.”

Environment Institute of Australia and
New Zealand Inc.

What prompted you to join EIANZ?

To learn from environmental professionals and work collaboratively to develop best practice process and sustainable outcomes.

What do you value most about being a member?

The amazing people who are committed to environmental practice and professionalism. Many of these people are valued peers and life long friends.

Has being a member helped you develop mentoring relationships and/or extend your professional networks? Can you tell us about the impact these relationships have had on your career development?

Yes. I have been very proud to be involved with EIANZ at a Division and Board level and to attend and speak at many annual conferences. I have encouraged my work colleagues to join EIANZ and we have collectively been recognised for several EIANZ awards.

What do you find most rewarding about a career in the environment sector?

It is a challenge and a privilege to work in the environment sector, increasing knowledge, informing best practice management and aiming for a healthy environment, industry and community.

What advice would you give to recent graduates just starting out in the environment sector?

Join EIANZ if you wish to fast track your environmental knowledge, performance, reputation and outcomes.